

1998 Norseman 4300

Price: $370,000

The Norseman 4300 is a sailing catamaran designed for cruising and leisure sailing.

The Norseman 4300 features a sleek and modern design, with clean lines and a spacious deck layout optimized for comfort and performance. These catamarans are foam core construction using advanced composite materials such as fiberglass, carbon fiber, and epoxy resin, ensuring durability and strength while keeping weight to a minimum.

The Norseman 4300 features a high-performance rigging setup, including a large mainsail and a foresail (genoa or jib), allowing for efficient sailing in various wind conditions. The cockpit area is spacious and designed for comfort, providing ample seating for the crew and guests. The interior features a large saloon area, which serves as the main living space onboard. These catamarans offer multiple cabins for accommodation, including a master cabin and guest cabins. The cabins are designed to maximize comfort and privacy. Overall, the Norseman 4300 is a luxurious vessel designed to provide an enjoyable sailing experience.
